Study Control of Grape Vine Insects

Two insect parasites of the western grapeleaf skeletonizer are now being reared by the University of California citrus experiment station. The skeletonizer is found on wild grapes. Owen J. Smith, experiment station specialist, is in charge of the biological control project to reduce the destructiveness of the skeletonizer as a pest of cultivated grapes.

WASP, FLY

The parasites, a wasp and a fly, were collected in Arizona where the skeletonizer is found on cultivated grapes. They are known to be effective in the control of the pest in that state. The wasp and fly are being raised at La Mesa in the infested area. Some have been released but it is too early to know how effectively they will control the skeletonizer in California.

Smith is now in Mexico searching for other parasites of the pest.

Legion Post Dance to Be Held Saturday

A repeat performance by the "Rhythmairs" will mark the third annual Halloween costume dance and party to be presented by the Bert S. Crossland American Legion Post this Saturday at 9 p.m. at the post hall, 1109 Border avenue, Stanley Heiman, vice-commander, announced today.

Member Drive Now Underway

"Participation Toward Accomplishment" is the theme being used for the 186th Street P. T. A. Membership Drive now under way. Visiting a Mother Goose house is being carried out on the posters. Nursery rhyme characters are scattered along a path leading from a school house, representing 186th Street school, to the house of Mother Goose. The object is, to get as many members as possible, which count points to start up the path. The room coming the nearest to Mother Goose house, will win. A prize will be presented to the winning room.

Sunblotch Hits Avocado Trees With "Yellows"

To tell if avocado parent stock is infected with sunblotch virus disease the University of California citrus experiment station is now running inoculation tests on seedlings. Using healthy budding stock is the best way to control this disease, says plant pathologist J. M. Wallace.

Young avocado seedlings are budded with the stock to be tested. If the virus is present in the buds sunblotch symptoms will usually show up in two to four months on the seedlings. Yellow or light-colored streaks on the bark are the most consistent symptom of this disease.
